The Department of Nutritional Sciences presents:

The Hans Fisher Lectureship

What will it take to reduce obesity in the population?

Guest Speaker:

James O. Hill, Ph.D.
Anschutz Professor
University of Colorado School of Medicine
Executive Director
University of Colorado Anschutz Health and Wellness Center

When:
Wednesday, April 13, 2016
Refreshments: 10:30 AM
Introductions and Lecture: 10:45 AM

Where:
The New Jersey Institute for Food Nutrition and Health, Room 101, 61 Dudley Road, New Brunswick, NJ

Register Here

James O. Hill, Ph.D. was Chair of the first World Health Organization Consultation on Obesity in 1997, President of The Obesity Society (TOS) 1997-8 and the American Society for Nutrition (ASN) 2008-9, a member of the NIH Expert Panel on Obesity that developed first U.S guidelines for the treatment and prevention of obesity. Dr. Hill has published more than 500 scientific articles and book chapters which focus on the importance of healthy eating and physical activity in weight management. A recipient of awards from The Obesity Society and the American Society for Nutrition, he is the 2012 Atwater Lecturer for the US Department of Agriculture and elected to the National Academy of Medicine in 2014. Dr. Hill is a cofounder of the National Weight Control Registry and co-founder of America on the Move, a national weight gain prevention initiative. He is the author of the Step Diet Book, published in June 2004 and the State of Slim published in August 2013.

This lecture is made possible by the Hans Fisher Lectureship Endowment and is hosted by the Department of Nutritional Sciences.

For further information please visit http://nutrition.rutgers.edu/