WELCOME
Welcome to the Culinary Nutrition class! I am glad you are a part of this class where you will learn information on the consumer aspects of food selection and meal preparation along with learning the culinary science behind food. My goal is to provide you with the most accurate and current information in the nutrition and food science fields and enhance your knowledge and skills in culinary food principles and preparation. I have an open door policy so if you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to ask. Learning about food and nutrition is fun so let’s start this journey together!

School of Arts and Sciences Learning Goals:
1. Areas of Inquiry: Natural Sciences [NS]:
   - Understand and apply basic principles and concepts in the physical or biological sciences [NS-1].

COURSE WEBSITE, RESOURCES AND MATERIALS:
To enhance your learning experience and provide affordable access to the right course material, this course is part of an inclusive access model called First Day™. You can easily access the required materials for this course at a discounted price, and benefit from single sign-on access with no codes required in Canvas. TOP HAT (REQUIRED PURCHASE):
Top Hat will be used in this course for taking attendance, participation, and exams throughout the semester. To purchase Top Hat, visit the following website: https://app.tophat.com/register/student/ and enter the following NEW 6-digit course code: 045975 (as of 9/9/22)
Total Cost for Top Hat = $20 for 4 months

CANVAS:
All class-related documents, grades, emails, and announcements for this class will be posted on our Canvas course website. This service is available through the student’s email account. Students will be responsible for regularly checking Canvas for emails, announcements and schedule changes.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
The purpose of this course is to provide students with basic overview on culinary food principles and preparation that will provide a broad foundation for students interested in a food-related career and/or to enhance their food-related knowledge and skills for the betterment of their health.

Student Learning Outcomes for Culinary Nutrition course (709:201)
At the conclusion of this course, students should be able to:
1. Identify and discuss the physical, economic, sociological and psychological factors that influence individual and group food choices.
2. Describe the physical properties of food and food products.
3. Understand the effects of food preparation, storage and services on the nutritional value and organoleptic qualities of food.
4. Understand safe food handling procedures.
5. Understand the microbiological hazards inherent in the food supply.
6. Identify and explain the functions of labels on foods and legal controls of the food supply.
7. Understand the nutritional properties of food and the influence food processing and food preparation has on the availability of nutrients in foods.
8. Translate basic principles of culinary science and nutrition into appropriate food choices.

2022 Core Knowledge for the RDN (KRDN) – Standards for the Didactic Programs in Dietetics:
Rutgers University Department of Nutritional Sciences undergraduate Didactic Program in Dietetics is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND) of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (AND). The following ACEND Core Knowledge aptitudes are included within the curriculum of this course:

KRDN 1.3: Apply critical thinking skills. (i.e., food additive & food science and nutrition short essay assignments)

KRDN 4.5: Describe safety and sanitation principles related to food, personnel and consumers (i.e., food safety lecture assessed on first exam and online assignment).

PARTICIPATION & ATTENDANCE:
I believe one of the best ways to learn is from conversation with your peers. Please participate when you deem it is appropriate and please be courteous to your fellow peers while attending the virtual classes. Reading your assignments ahead of time makes you a better participant and makes the discussions more interesting. Top Hat will be utilized to take attendance during classes, track participation, and for all four exams (each worth 75 points). If you cannot attend the class because of an emergency or are sick, please get notes from a classmate for any material that you might have missed. The lecture slides will be posted before each class on Canvas.

ASSIGNMENTS/RESPONSIBILITIES & ASSESSMENT:
Grades for this course are based upon a maximum of 500 points. There will be 4 hourly exams for 75 points each, 10 quizzes (10 points each), 2 food & nutrition assignments (30 points each) and attendance/participation (40 points). All students are expected to take exams during the assigned time in class. Make-up exams will ONLY be given at the discretion of the instructor with appropriate written documentation. Under no circumstances will make-up exams be given later than the week following the scheduled exam.

EXAM POLICY
All exams are mandatory – no exceptions! Exams will be conducted online via Top Hat. You will need an electronic device with good Internet Connection for exams.

Exam 1 will cover all material covered in class from the first day of class until the day of the exam.

Exam 2 will cover all material covered in class since the first exam through the indicated class meeting before the second exam and all assigned readings.

Exam 3 will cover all material covered in class since the second exam through the indicated class meeting before the third exam and all assigned readings.

Exam 4 (NOT Comprehensive) will cover all material covered in class since the third exam to the last day of scheduled class.

All exams will cover lecture material and assigned readings. Exam formats will be a combination of multiple choice, matching, and T/F. Students need to have a computer or other electronic device with internet access for taking the exam via Top Hat. Exams grades will be posted instantaneously and synced to your Canvas gradebook.

Quizzes: There will be 10 online quizzes that will cover content from the chapter readings. The timed Canvas online quizzes (10 minutes) are closed book with a lockdown browser feature. Each quiz is 10 points (100 points total).

Food & Nutrition Assignments: There will be 2 food & nutrition assignments (Food Additive & the Food Science and Nutrition Essay) worth 30 points each (60 points total). Directions for these assignments along with the grading rubric will be posted on the Canvas course website.
Final Grade Assessment: Final grade determination is based on the following: A = 450 points & above; B+ = 425-449; B = 400-424; C+ = 375-399; C = 350-374; D = 300-349; F = 299 & below.

How to Position Yourself for Academic Success:
Tips for improving your chances for success in Culinary Nutrition

- Attend Lectures: Individuals learn many ways such as auditory, visual and tactile learners, but most of use a combination of all of these. I try to incorporate a variety of these in class so attending lecture will increase your opportunities for learning.

- Note-Taking Techniques: Taking notes in class in outline form and leaving space on the page to “fill in” from the text is highly recommended. Reading your notes within 24 hours after class and supplementing with more detail from the text will greatly enhance your retention of the course content.

- Keep up with the material: Learn the vocabulary and study them regularly. Keep up with the assigned book chapters each week too. Do not wait until the day before the exam to find out you do not understand something.

- Read the Text: Lectures will not always cover all the material, so your text is an important resource. Focus on the summary charts, bold or highlight items, and review the end of chapter questions and quizzes. Supplement your lecture notes with points from the readings. The digital text book provides a wealth of visual illustrations and additional resources. Utilize all of the resources to your full advantage to help you learn.

- Form Study Groups: Study groups can help you learn while making new friends. Often students can learn as much from their peers as their professor. When you can explain a concept to someone else then you know that you really know it!

- Ask for Help: Students ARE NOT an interruption from my work, but the reason for it. Schedule a time to meet with me either in-person or virtually. I want to see all students excel in the course!

FINAL EXAM DATE AND TIME
The fourth exam (NOT comprehensive) will be held during the final exam week.

ACCOMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES
Please follow the procedures outlined at https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/registration-form. Full policies and procedures are at https://ods.rutgers.edu/

ABSENCE POLICY
Students are expected to attend all classes; if you expect to miss one or two classes, please use the University absence reporting website https://sims.rutgers.edu/ssra/ to indicate the date and reason for your absence. An email is automatically sent to me. Keep in mind, Top Hat will be used for class attendance and participation, which will count towards your overall class grade (10%).

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
The university's policy on Academic Integrity is available at http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity-policy. The principles of academic integrity require that a student:

- properly acknowledge and cite all use of the ideas, results, or words of others.
- properly acknowledge all contributors to a given piece of work.
- make sure that all work submitted as his or her own in a course or other academic activity is produced without the aid of impermissible materials or impermissible collaboration.
- obtain all data or results by ethical means and report them accurately without suppressing any results inconsistent with his or her interpretation or conclusions.
treat all other students in an ethical manner, respecting their integrity and right to pursue their educational goals without interference. This requires that a student neither facilitate academic dishonesty by others nor obstruct their academic progress.

- uphold the canons of the ethical or professional code of the profession for which he or she is preparing. Adherence to these principles is necessary in order to ensure that:
  - everyone is given proper credit for his or her ideas, words, results, and other scholarly accomplishments.
  - all student work is fairly evaluated and no student has an inappropriate advantage over others.
  - the academic and ethical development of all students is fostered.
  - the reputation of the University for integrity in its teaching, research, and scholarship is maintained and enhanced.

Failure to uphold these principles of academic integrity threatens both the reputation of the University and the value of the degrees awarded to its students. Every member of the University community therefore bears a responsibility for ensuring that the highest standards of academic integrity are upheld.
